

TAI*slim*[™]

For a Totally New You

Frequently Asked Questions

Q: Are children able to use TAI*slim*[™]?

A: We have designed the product for use by adults, as it contains 100 mg of caffeine per serving (approximately the amount in a small cup of coffee). There is nothing in TAI*slim* that is harmful to a child, but you should always seek your pediatrician's advice as to its appropriate use for your healthy child. This is especially important for children with known diseases or conditions.

Q: Is TAI*slim* FDA approved?

A: FDA is not permitted by law to approve dietary supplements, but it does regulate their quality and safety. TAI*slim* is manufactured to safety and quality standards that meet or exceed all government standards.

Q: What is the unopened shelf life of TAI*slim*?

A: 2 years.

Q: What is the opened shelf life of TAI*slim*?

A: 30 days, if kept refrigerated and tightly closed after opening.

Q: Is TAI*slim* preservative free?

A: TAI*slim* contains small amounts of sodium benzoate and potassium sorbate to maintain freshness.

Q: If I take twice as much TAI*slim* will I loose weight twice as fast?

A: No. Use only two ounces of TAI*slim* at the start of breakfast, and two ounces at the start of lunch with an eight-ounce glass of water each time, as directed. You may see better results with an extra daily serving at the start of dinner, however, do not exceed two ounces per serving, and always take with at least eight ounces of water.

Q: When the target weight has been reached, should I stop taking the TAI*slim*?

A: No. There are 27 healthy reasons to continue to take one daily serving of TAI*slim*.

Q: Can women who are pregnant drink TAI*slim*?

A: Women who are pregnant or nursing are advised to consult their physician prior to beginning the TAI*slim* plan.

Q: Since TAI*slim* is a liquid can I take it with other weight loss pills?

A: We do not recommend using any other weight loss products with TAI*slim*.

Q: Does TAI*slim* qualify as a Kosher product?

A: While TAI*slim*'s unique formulation is both healthy and effective, it does not meet Kosher specifications.

Q: Is TAI*slim* a taxable product?

A: Like any product or consumer good, tax responsibility is entirely dependent upon the tax laws in the country or state the good is sold.
